

Hi Madonna,

Evan and I have been trying to reach you through twitter.

Evan and I have come to realize that twitter really does not connect anyone together, does it?

We all just read a few posts of others and post something ourselves and then move on to other things.

Evan and I would like to change that and so many other things in the world.

Evan is an Archangel of God and he tells me that you are so beautiful from his perspective.

His perspective is different from all of us since he is a telepath. Of course he would be as an Archangel of God and so is God (his name is Jehovah).

Any way he tells me you are so very special and would really like me to ask you to go out to dinner and to go dancing with us.

So here it goes:

Madonna,

Evan and I think your so beautiful from the inside and outside and we both want you to meet someone who will see you as we do now through God's eyes. You have the divine spark that has freed people to love others and have spread love, the most powerful force in the Universe, around the world. We think your super intelligent and we both love when you wear your glasses because it makes you look as smart as you truly are. We hope you don't mind going out with two guys and of course we would want you to bring your current love Ahlamalik Williams if you both agree that would be best. Evan tells me that on his planet, that people often have polygamous relationships and families. What is wrong with loving another person? And why can't a woman have multiple male lovers or even husbands? Anyway since we are on lock down now, we were wondering if you would be interested in getting together on a Video call. All you need is a laptop or PC computer with a camera and a browser like Google Chrome installed. That way we could get to know each other well before we would ever have to subject yourself to us romancing you with flowers and seducing you with music to convince you on going out to dinner and going dancing with us. We both think Ahlamalik is really cute and would love to get to know him as well. Please be your adventurous self and get back to us when you feel it is a good time.

With care and warm regards,

Your virtual friends,

Peter and Evan

My mom just recently texted us this picture and said:
"Here's a little sunshine on a rainy day"

